

RS-Q by Ramon Soler®

RS-Q is a new aesthetic concept from Ramon Soler®. This latest collection features harmonious, voluptuous volumes that take their inspiration from nature. RS-Q is a clear example of the new trend towards “soft design”, with gentle but striking lines. It is a product that creates an atmosphere of balance and relaxation.

RS-Q, Ramon Soler®'s most recent development, is a complete collection that provides a vast range of solutions, with something for all tastes: large showers, wall-mounted tapware, hydromassage...

These superbly-designed taps are fitted with aerators that use our airshower system, mixing water and air to greatly reduce water consumption whilst maintaining the highest standards of comfort and maximum flow quality.

Ramon Soler®, a pioneer in water saving and eco-efficient systems, has received countless prizes from local councils, communities and schools in recognition of the company's devotion and excellent results with regard to reducing water consumption and furthering environmental conservation.

Ramon Soler® is a universally-trusted manufacturer thanks to the company's experience in tapware design. All our collections combine great durability and impeccable design.
