

Ramon Soler®'s ULTRASLIM: a great showerhead with only a 2 mm thickness

It is important to dedicate a moment of our day to ourselves, and this quality time extends itself with a great shower.

With the Ramon Soler® ULTRASLIM head, we can offer a shower of the latest design characteristics which is absolutely innovative. Apart from being in the category of XXL showerheads, it has a very thin 2mm thickness and is built in stainless steel. Ramon Soler®'s ULTRASLIM is presented in two formats, being square and round and is available in different sizes which can easily adapt to our necessities.

ULTRASLIM also has an anti-limescale system incorporated.

This extra thin showerhead has been designed so that we can bask under a fine water spray and enjoy the comfort of an extraordinary shower.
